WHY ME

My storytelling foundation began long before podcasting—across music, film, television and documentary production. My experience spans sound design, voice-over, dialogue editing, mixing & mastering, sync licensing, film scoring and music-to-picture, giving me a multidisciplinary understanding of how story, sound and image work together to inform, engage and move an audience. I can take complex research, expert insight and thought leadership and shape it into accessible, human-centered multimedia.
